

Conservation Contracts are experienced in all aspects of waterway and wetland management & creation. This includes; various types of pond construction, e.g. amphibian, fish & wildfowl. Also various methods of revetment construction & erosion control. Silt removal, reed bed management, sluice and dam construction and ditch creation & clearance.

Waterways and Wetlands

Conservation Contracts know that when constructing new ponds, ground conditions will not always retain water.

However with a new range of products that are now available, this problem can be overcome, by installing heavy duty liners.

This allows the customer to choose a pond of any size. All work is carried out to client specifications and to the highest standards.
